

The proposed ruling to disallow fax and emails to our members will seriously hamper our service to our members. They join the association for communication, and educational opportunities, which often involves fees. FAX and Emails are quicker and less expensive and more desirable (according to our members) than mail, which often is overlooked and often arrives too late. I feel that this regulation will do more harm to associations than good. I sincerely ask that associations whose members join voluntarily to get the information you are proposing to prohibit be exempt from this ruling. We would like to see the established business relationship clause reinstated for associations.
